Dear Lt Governor Bryant

Rebuilding our space program is one of Pres. Trumps stated goals and given the recent drop in launch cost and the upswing of private capital interest, I feel the timing may be right. I made inquires at local Colleges and Universities about hosting pro-space exploration speakers to the discuss the future of the Space Program. Dr Hartmann (Clemson Astronomy and Physics Dept) has expressed a strong desire to host engage speakers at Clemson U. I have also had interest, but no firm commitments from Anderson U, and Erskine College. One of the speakers we would like to get is Trump's NASA Administrator nominee Congressman Bridenstine. His office hinted that he may be available, but I have not been able to get a commitment or hear from the congressmen directly. Would you be will to send a letter inviting Congressman Bridenstine to speak in the upstate at a time of his convenience?

I am certain that I can arrange one or more speaking engagement with sizable, friendly audience. And if Congressman Bridenstine unable to come, would he be willing to recommend or ask other speakers.
