Mike,
After reading this through, I have not yet found anything that missed the mark in the report. While I am sure you had additional areas that needed work to illuminate, you folks by far hit the most important and far-reaching aspects. For instance, I think the comment about the attitude needing to change speaks to service woes etc. without having to detail them.
There has to be a starting point and a willingness to change. Your, Chad, Marcia, and the other members work here has given the state the first. Now I hope those that truly care about South Carolina as a whole can help to instill that will to change and help to shepherd it through.
I will go over this again with an eye towards anything to possibly add. I know you do not seek kudos but you and those with you have done this state a service here. I will again say as I have in the past few months working with you, if I can be of assistance going forward I will gladly do so in any way.

Chad tells me the full report is now posted on the Budget and Control Board web site. I am not looking for kudo's but I would like your assessment of where in the IT section the report is weak and where it is strong.

Subject: THANK YOU

Chad, Mike and Marcia,

I would like to thank all of you for your leadership on the on the Governor's GEAR committee. The section on the State CIO is right on the money - outstanding job – thank you for listening to me and my counter parts – I look forward to helping implement some of the recommendations.

Thank you once again.

David
