Hi! I was just wondering if June weddings were still able to happen? Thank you so much!

Hi there! Are you planning attending an event at our venue in June?

Hi! I am a photographer for a wedding on June 12th and I didn't want to upset the bride and ask her ;)

I wasn't sure if it was a continuously evolving situation or if it had already been decided.

No worries! I completely understand. It is definitely a continually evolving situation. We are expecting to get some more clearer answers this week regarding our June events, such as the possibility of limiting capacities, etc. As of right now, Jessica is still scheduled for her wedding on 6/12. She does have a back up January date on hold with us, in case she needs to/decides to postpone. But that decision should be made this week or early next week.
