OK, Katherine and Becca - seriously, if you ever send me a thank you note again, I will murder you both. We are in this together. My house is your house. We look forward to your visit every year (but never feel obligated - I know I have to share you all) and it's such fun to have you there. You can even come without Nikki - we adore each and every one of you. We have your back. Just don't waste your precious time sending me notes. I consider myself part of the team. So thank you for your thank you but that's it. Last one. XXX kathie
