Save the Date for Smart Cities Week Silicon Valley, May 8-10!

What do you get when you gather together inventors and technologists and pioneers and city leaders in the innovation capital of the world?

You get an unprecedented preview of what's coming next as we remake virtually every aspect of urban life — from our transportation, power and policing to the way we deliver city services and communicate with citizens.

Building on the success of the Smart Cities Council's annual conference held each fall in Washington, D.C., Smart Cities Week Silicon Valley honors the region's focus on innovation — with an interactive and intimate program tailored to meet the needs of cities and the world's leading experts who are helping them prepare for what's coming next.

Join us for a unique chance to discuss HOW cities are leading the way in:

- Next Generation Transportation
- Artificial intelligence and Analytics
- Digital Payments and Citizen Services
- Compassionate Cities
- And more!

We look forward to seeing you in Santa Clara on May 8-10, 2017.

Registration opens February 1!
