Through November you can now donate canned goods for our mission at @SC_State_Parks . pic.twitter.com/2OU09HB24N

This year, while you're packing for vacation, pack a little extra to help those in need. From July 1 - November 30, 2015, all 47 South Carolina state parks are partnering with food banks across the state to collect canned goods and nonperishable, essential items for donation.

Just look for the collection boxes at each state park, and drop your donations there. We'll take care of the rest!

The most requested nonperishable items include:

Canned vegetables | Canned meats | Dry goods | Peanut butter
Beans | Toiletries | Diapers | Detergent | Plastic and paper bags

Note: We cannot accept products that are expired or jared at home, cans without labels, opened products or glass containers. All donations must be in their original packaging with labels.

For more information on how to donate, visit SouthCarolinaParks.com to contact the park office or ranger station of the park(s) you're planning to visit.
