---

Kevin,

Every year Washington Night provides an opportunity for the state's business community to have dialogue with our federal delegation on the issues important to businesses in South Carolina such as taxes, trade and the regulatory climate.

With everything going on in D.C. -- this meeting is timely for our members. We hope you will join us tomorrow, August 22, for this event. You can find more information here.

Thank you again for your partnership as we address the issues and continue to make South Carolina the best place to live, work and do business.

Sincerely,

Ted
