Yes, those are specific questions she was looking for that I neglected to include or update, so they are good to be separated in the manner they are. The only other thing she asked for that I do not see included which could go right below the “37,000” welfare to work stat is the specific number of SNAP recipients that found a job (welfare to work includes all programs, and the SNAP number is specific to the SNAP program):

Including helping more than 14,000 SNAP recipients find a job.
