Subject: Philadelphia – First to Launch Network of Care for Veterans in Pennsylvania

The City of Philadelphia launched its Network of Care for Veterans, Services Members & Their Families in a large and enthusiastic public event held April 28 at Philadelphia City Hall.

Veterans and service providers praised the program as something that finally meets the needs of the returning service member in an easy-to-use and comprehensive way.

“It is a true one-stop shop that connects the dots,” said Veterans Service Coordinator Mike Brown. Amanda Rondon from Team Red White and Blue; Judge Patrick Dugan, and a number of combat veterans formed a chorus of appreciation for this unique service.

The Network of Care was developed by the city’s Department of Behavioral Health and Intellectual disaBility Services under the leadership of Dr. Arthur Evans, in partnership with Trilogy Integrated Resources.

Please read about the Network of Care and the veterans it serves in this April 28 article by the Philadelphia Inquirer.
