Sorry I forgot to check my email before I left the office. I still am able to attach the piece to an email with the needed additional notes to hold it until Tuesday, via mobile. I called and emailed Greenville news again today and never heard back.

Send it. Just make sure it's appropriately labeled. Ask her to respond to you that she will hold it until Tuesday. Did you hear from G News?

Peggy McIntyre just got back in touch with me and said to send the piece over to her with a note saying to hold it until Tuesday. I was wondering if the note should be included at the top of the actual word document or in the email containing the attached document.
