It's 101 let me know if that's a huge issue.

Nikki Haley the 116th Governor of South Carolina is the first female and first minority governor of the state.

Under the governor, over 68,000 jobs have been created, over 25,000 South Carolinians moved from welfare to work, and the state made its largest infrastructure investment without raising taxes.

She delivered education reform, making funding more equitable in poor communities while focusing on reading and technology.

She led the fight requiring legislators to record votes, allowing citizens to see how legislators spend tax dollars.

She and her husband Michael, a Captain in the Army National Guard, have two children Rena and Nalin.

The Governor is attending an event in August and they have requested 100 words or less bio. Can y'all help me with that? They need it for print by Thursday at noon.

Thanks,
