Robert,

To ensure timely and confirmed delivery, the first batch was mailed via FedEx, rather than by U.S. post, on Tuesday, January 26th, the date of receipt of payment. I was assured that the package would arrive to you by Friday, January 29th.

Compilation of the second batch was completed today. To expedite the process, we can tell you in advance that the total cost for the second batch will be $10.50, the official cost determination letter of which will be emailed to you tomorrow.

If you have any other questions, please let us know.

Sincerely,

Rebecca

Hi all,

Still waiting on the first package, but I'm writing to check in about the last installment. You all said last month and earlier this week that it would be finished in January. Tomorrow is the last business day in January. When you all have the final cost, please let me know so I can send a check.

Thanks again for your help.

Robert
