South Carolina State Parks

at 12:52:12 on 4/20/2020 UTC

If this doesn't make you smile on this Monday morning, we're not sure what will! Check out these new red fox pups who are out and about at Charles Towne Landing!

Sandra Holsopple We missed being out there April 4th to celebrate our anniversary. We got married there in the wedding garden April 4,2004 and go back every year. We'll patiently wait for the park to reopen and then patiently wait for the excitement about opening to wear off and then we'll come celebrate. We love Charles Towne Landing.

Köhne Michael I'll smile when my three pups have food and paid bills to keep a roof over their heads...
Still waiting on SC government to do that, since they've taken 5,000 dollars from my earnings so far...

Any suggestions on how I'm supposed to raise my children when I'm not making money????

Eileen Edmonds King Open up our SC parks for hiking, biking, and camping. Camping for SC residents only ... then many of us who live here will be able to enjoy our own parks for camping this summer and have a chance to reserve in our own state!

Köhne Michael Neal Bowers....

Thanks for the advice.

Been working hard for 35 yrs. Sometimes 75 hrs a week.

Six weeks of no pay can drain you dry.

Please don't be a smart ass when hard working people are in need.

Just because you happened to be well off with your trade, doesn't mean everyone is working an essential job.

God will look down on you for this.

Expect changes to your cushion life.
