No, the S.C. General Assembly has only provided funding for services under the new CSID contract. If you choose to use another service, such as Experian, you may be eligible for a tax deduction of up to $300 of the cost for single taxpayers and $1,000 of the cost for joint taxpayers (State Budget Part IB Proviso 118.18). The tax deduction is not available for any person who has enrolled in CSID's identity theft protection services.

Other than enrolling in the state-provided CSID identity protection services offered, what are other options for protecting my identity?

You are not required to enroll with CSID. Additional steps that an individual can take to further protect his/her identity include:

- Regularly monitor your credit reports: Under federal law, individuals are entitled to one free credit report once a year from each of the three major credit bureaus; credit reports can easily be obtained by contacting the credit bureaus (contact information provided below), or by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or by calling 1-877-322-8228. You may wish to stagger your requests for each of these free credit reports so that you receive one report every four months. You should also know that you have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity fraud. Please contact law enforcement for further details if such incident should occur.
- Monitor your bank accounts and/or contact your credit/debit card issuer: When credit card or debit card information is compromised, the best protection is to obtain a new card with new card numbers. If you detect any unauthorized charges on your account(s), please contact your bank or debit card issuer; usually a contact number will be provided on the back of your credit/debit card.
- Place fraud alerts with any one of the three major credit bureaus: You can place a fraud alert with one of the three major credit bureaus by phone or by visiting their website. There is no need to alert all three credit bureaus as when you alert one credit bureau, the other two will also be notified.
- Place a freeze on your credit files with each of the three credit bureaus: It is free for South Carolina taxpayers to place a credit freeze. A credit freeze will prevent anyone from accessing your credit; however, you will not be able to borrow money or obtain instant credit until you either lift or thaw the freeze.
