

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20170509South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10155296090618166

South Carolina State Parks

at 12:00:01 on 5/09/2017 UTC · 🌐

DYK? This Saturday is International Migratory Bird Day! When birds migrate between nesting and wintering sites, birds don't just stop anywhere. Birds rely on a handful of resource-rich and strategically located stopover sites where they may double their body weight as they acquire the energy-rich fat stores needed to fly thousands of kilometers across continents and oceans. Seen here are is a Great Blue Heron (& a smaller feathered friend) at a stopover spot on a rainy morning at Andrew Jackson State Park. www.southcarolinaparks.com/andrewjackson

