• Jewish leaders support alien invasion of Europe, America—but not to Zion

By Ronald L. Ray

Amid all the public consternation and media propagandizing over the ongoing invasion of Europe by millions of Africans and Asians, and the similar invasion of the U.S. from the south—now conveniently overshadowed by the “refugee” ruse—there is one developed country that could accept the refugees, yet refuses with impunity to do so. That nation is Israel.

While world Jewry actively promotes the genocidal infiltration of traditionally white countries by unending masses of foreigners, the Zionist state somehow is permitted to reject “diversity” and “multi-culturalism” without complaint. Both actions are justified by resorting to the worn-out canard of the so-called “holocaust,” a Jewish incantation designed to close off all rational discussion.

It is true that Jewish opinion on the topic of immigration and the “refugee crisis” seems divided, roughly between more liberal internationalist Jews and increasingly alarmist Jewish nationalists, i.e., Zionists. But the common thread to both is a rejection of the right of white peoples to unique national and cultural identities. The Jewish groups’ differences are more apparent than real.

While the internationalists claim unlimited acceptance of foreigners is an “obligation” of the invaded countries, the vast majority are silent about any such obligation for Israel. The Zionists, on the other hand, screech that Israel will lose its claimed “Jewish” identity if non-Jewish foreigners are accepted into the artificially created Zionist state, while stridently demanding that white countries allow themselves to be overrun with those same foreigners.

Increasingly, however, the Zionists kvetch that the millions of purported “refugees” in Europe—actually, mostly economic migrants and jihadists—are importing “anti-Semitism” and “anti-democratic” behaviors. Some commentators, however, see in this both typical Jewish paranoia and a cynical ploy to deflect blame for the white genocide they have promoted.

For example, Josef Schuster, head of the Central Council of Jews in Germany, originally pontificated that Germany could refuse no invader because of the alleged crimes of National Socialism. But once rioting, rape, and other evils became rampant, he changed his tune. The migrants, he mused, “come from cultures in which hate toward promote the demise of white civilization, while persecuting the foreigners who attempt immigration to the Zionist state.

IsraAID, an Israeli non-governmental organization funded in part by the Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs, actively assists Africans and Middle Easterners to enter Greece and cross Europe to Germany. While sighing about the “rights” of the “refugees,” the organization shows no such concern for the rights of the invaded peoples. IsraAID provides supplies and “counseling” to the aliens in Greece and along the Balkan route to Central Europe.

The Israeli government, however, shows the greatest hostility to non-Jews who try to enter Israel, calling them “infiltrators.” They have even enlisted Egypt as an accomplice. Egyptian forces shot and killed 16 Sudanese immigrants attempting to cross the Sinai into Israel on Nov. 15 and murdered five more on Nov. 23. Some of the victims may have been armed radicals, but it is unlikely that all were.

Israeli “Nuremberg laws” require DNA tests from potential immigrants to assure their Jewish racial purity, while non-Jews are barred—behavior for which other races would be excoriated. Recently, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu declared that his state will not accept any Syrian refugees—even if Christian or Jewish, apparently. Last September, construction was begun on new sections of a network of walls and fences designed to completely encircle the Zionist state, keeping out native Palestinians and foreigners, as well as creating the largest Jewish ghetto in the world.

The Israeli government has no problem shipping asylum seekers in Israel to white countries, however. While it keeps “infiltrators” confined in the Negev desert, it arranged in 2014, for example, to send a group of unwanted Eritreans to Sweden, where criminal “refugees” are responsible for massive crime and rape statistics.

Meanwhile, the Israeli government has met with Google and YouTube representatives to plot the censorship of Palestinian videos that reveal the true extent of Israeli savagery toward Palestine’s native people.

Where is the outrage?

Immigration: Issue of the Century

By Patrick J. Buchanan

Tump's immigration proposals are as dangerous as they are stunning," railed amnesty activist Frank Sharry. "Trump ... promises to rescind protections for Dreamers and deport them. He wants to redefine the constitutional definition of U.S. citizenship as codified by the 14th Amendment. He plans to impose a moratorium on legal immigration."

While Sharry is a bit hysterical, he is not entirely wrong.

For the six-page policy paper, to secure America's border and send back aliens here illegally, released by Trump in the middle of August, is the toughest, most comprehensive, stunning immigration proposal of the election cycle.

The Trump folks were aided by people around Sen. Jeff Sessions (R-Ala.), who says Trump's plan "reestablishes the principle that America's immigration laws should serve the interests of its own citizens."

The issue is joined, the battle lines are drawn and the GOP will debate and may decide which way America shall go. And the basic issues—how to secure our borders, whether to repatriate the millions here illegally, whether to declare a moratorium on immigration into the USA—are part of a greater question.

Will the West endure, or disappear by the century's end as another lost civilization?

Mass immigration, if it continues, will be more decisive in deciding the fate of the West than Islamist terrorism. For the world is invading the West.

A wild exaggeration? Consider.

The Washington Post recently had a front-page story on an "escalating rash of violent attacks against refugees" in Germany, including arson attacks on refugee centers and physical assaults.

Buried in the story was an astonishing statistic. Germany, which took in 174,000 asylum seekers last year, is on schedule to take in 500,000 this year. Yet Germany is smaller than Montana.

How long can a geographically limited and crowded German nation, already experiencing ugly racial conflict, take in half a million Third World people every year without tearing itself apart and changing the character of the nation

Both Sen. Jeff Sessions and candidate Donald Trump have it right: America is for Americans, not for every "undocumented alien" who happens to successfully sneak across the border. But the same can be said of Europe, where literally millions of Muslims and Africans, displaced by overpopulation, war and unrest, flood the continent.

Do we think the riots and racial wars will stop if more come?

And these refugees, asylum seekers and illegal immigrants are not going to stop coming to Europe. For they are being driven across the Mediterranean by wars in Libya, Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan and Yemen, by the horrific conditions in Eritrea, Ethiopia, Somalia and Sudan, by the Islamist terrorism of the Mideast and the abject poverty of the sub-Sahara.

According to the UN, Africa had 1.1 billion people by 2013, will double that to 2.4 billion by 2050 and double that to 4.2 billion by 2100.

How many of these billions dream of coming to Europe? When and why will they stop coming? How many can Europe absorb without going bankrupt and changing the continent forever?

Does Europe have the toughness to seal its borders and send back the intruders? Or is Europe paralyzed?

The blazing issue in Britain and France is the thousands of Arab and African asylum seekers clustered about Calais to traverse the Eurotunnel to Dover. The Brits are on fire. Millions want out of the EU. The British want to remain who they are.

Each week we read of boats sinking in the Mediterranean with hundreds of refugees drowning. Yet many, many more make it to the Greek and Italian islands, and thence north to Germany and Scandinavia and the welfare states of Western Europe. Once they step onto EU soil, they are in.

Europe and America are being swamped by a tidal wave of illegal immigrants that will forever alter the fabric of white, Western civilization—and not for the better. Only a fool would continue to support the weak immigration policies that are making this war on the West possible.

This unending invasion has called into existence anti-immigrant and anti-EU parties in almost every country in Europe. Few of these parties existed at the turn of the century. How does this all end?

"Humankind cannot bear very much reality," wrote T. S. Eliot.

Is the West still blind to reality, to the inevitable future that awaits if the West does not secure its frontiers and close its borders to mass immigration?

Peoples of European descent, everywhere they live, have birth rates below replacement levels. Yet most live in the world's most desirable neighborhoods.

The great and growing populations of mankind are in the Third World. Countless millions are determined to come to the West, legally if they can, illegally if they must. And the more who succeed, the more who come.

Either Western nations take tough measures to secure their borders, or the Western nations will be swamped. The character of their countries will be altered forever, and smaller countries will become unrecognizable. And as this is happening, ethnic and racial clashes will become more common, as they are now becoming across Europe.

"The principle that America's immigration laws should serve the interests of its own citizens" is paramount, said Sessions.

Sessions is right. America is our home. We decide who comes in and who does not, how large the American family becomes, whom we adopt and whence they come.

It has become the issue of 2016.

Indeed, it is the issue of the 21st century. ★
