South Carolina's Premiere Hunting, Fishing and Outdoor Show

Visiting from New York, Nature Nick's Animal Adventures is a fast-paced educational wildlife show. Audiences will be enraptured with delight as they see a ten-foot long python or when a Eurasian Eagle owl stretches out his six-foot wingspan! All Shows feature five to six trained exotic animals including, but not limited to: owls, falcons, snakes, alligators, foxes, armadillos, turtles, and even a Chilean flamingo!

"Nature" Nick personally presents all shows himself. He is a TV personality, author and professional animal trainer. Show also includes a meet and greet where audience members can interact and have their photos taken. Nature Nick and his animals have been featured on The Martha Stewart Show, Fox & Friends, Good Day New York, Good Morning America, and The Today Show!

Kerr Chainsaw Carving

Each carving is inspired by the shape and feel of the wood. Sometimes that is a bear peeking around a corner while holding a lantern. Other times, there is a decorative coffee table or a small owl turning to look at you. There are always figures that want to come out of the wood and just set themselves down in someone's yard.

As you can imagine, every tree and branch has their own shape and quality which must be respected. The wood grain and curves need to be worked with to make the most of each carving. Since no two trees — or even wood cut from the same tree — are alike, no two carvings are ever alike as long as you respect what nature has given.

South Carolina's Conservation Districts

Conservation districts are subdivisions of state government under the local direction of a five-member Board of Commissioners. Three are elected in General Election and two are appointed by the S.C. Department of Natural Resources Board. These commissioners volunteer their time and services to help improve natural resources. There are 46 conservation districts in South Carolina. Districts conform to county boundaries.

The commissioners direct the efforts of a staff of conservation professionals who provide technical, educational and professional services to protect the natural resources of the district. The conservation district works in conjunction with staff from the S.C. Department of Natural Resources and the USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service for greater effectiveness.
