Special thanks to the Richland County Conservation Commission for a $6,500 grant that was awarded to Sesquicentennial State Park for the Jackson Creek Nature Trail Improvement Project! Floods in October washed away the existing trail and bridge and this grant enabled us to rebuild it. The trail is used by over 1,000 kindergarteners annually that attend field trips to the park. It is also used for most of our public programs and is also open to the public year round. We are very thankful for the support!
