Here are a sampling of responses and the region of the state. I will send more when I get more.

Pee Dee - All product for us are coming from our water terminals. We are sending zero trucks to pipeline terminals.

Upstate - Due to an outage at the Buckeye/Spartanburg terminal Regular and Premium gasoline are currently unavailable to load until further notice. We will update when resupply has occurred.

Midlands - overall we are OK today but I am concerned that repairs have not been made, and I still believe it will get worse before gets better.

Multi-Regions - We are seeing several issues:

1. Supply in Charlotte, N Augusta, Spartanburg and Belton is spotty at best. Most major oil companies are 5-14 days out on resupply.
2. Charleston and Savannah demand is heavy, and supply is okay.
3. Stores are getting part loads in order to keep as many from being out for any length of time.
4. Trucking companies are needing 72-96 hour lead time for scheduling.

This is from one the major oil companies with an overall look at the state:
