

---

From: Haley, Nikki
Sent: Thursday, January 5, 2017 12:22 AM
To: Schimsa, Rebecca
Cc: Haley, Michael; Patel, Swati; Taylor, Richele; Godfrey, Rob; Smith, Austin; Symmes, Brian; Adams, Chaney; Glaccum, David
Subject: Re: EMD Alert - Winter Weather this Weekend

Please let EMD know that I am on standby as needed by watching this event.

Sent from my iPad

On Jan 4, 2017, at 6:45 PM, Schimsa, Rebecca <RebeccaSchimsa@gov.sc.gov> wrote:

Forecast: The NWS predicts 1-3" of snow from the Upstate to the Midlands this weekend, Friday through Saturday.

Effects: Significant ice accumulations are NOT likely, meaning no significant power outages.

State Action: EMD will schedule a county call on Friday morning and will have a small crew in the SEOC overnight on Friday through Saturday. DOT can handle snowfall that falls at 1"/hour or less without additional help, which should apply to this event. We do NOT anticipate needed a State of Emergency.

Expect additional updates. Below is a forecast image for snowfall totals.

<image003.png>