Swati, as you probably know, Senate bill 258 was passed by the House January 12, 2012 . The bill was ratified in a joint session yesterday, January 26, 2012. The bill as far as I can determine has an effective date currently written as January 1, 2012. Of course this presents a problem. Do you know what the process is to establish an alternative effective date? Additionally, regardless of the enactment date following the Governor's signature, a corresponding appropriation would have to accompany implementation and I suppose this could not occur until the 2012-2013 Appropriation Act is passed.
Any thoughts?

Thanks,

Jim
