cherocana @mg_dixon ☹️Bummer
at 21:03:29 on 3/31/2020 UTC

mg_dixon @cherocana yep. I don't think I would have had a problem "social distancing " in a kayak.
at 21:05:11 on 3/31/2020 UTC

cherocana @mg_dixon Me either. Seems like the perfect way to spend a little #socialdistancing time.

sandradenisedean @kimberlyb68 That's a beautiful love story. That would be a good movie. That's sounds like a movie you would see on the Hallmark Chanel.

sandradenisedean @kimberlyb68 Do you know of any place that will be giving lessons?
at 1:03:21 on 4/01/2020 UTC

kimberlyb68 @sandradenisedean I don't know of anyone in the area now. I know there are paddling groups so maybe when this pandemic is over, join a group and someone will show you how.

burrouh @sandradenisedean I began with a program that the SC DNR had in place called How to Become an Outdoor Woman. I recommend starting with a 9 or 20 foot sit-on-top. I bought mine about 6 years ago and love it. I stick with still water or slow moving rivers like the Edisto.

brackish_bassin It should read, "Who remembers when you could go paddling?" I do. That was back when people had unalienable rights and freedom.

burrouh @sandradenisedean I meant to say 9-10 feet in length.
