Subject: Query from the Los Angeles Times for Gov. Haley

Chaney,

On the seeming-very-likely occasion of the election of the nation's first female president, we are reaching out to female political leaders in the U.S. and around the world to contribute a "note to Hillary" that we will publish right after the election. These notes can be short – just 150 words more or less – and address any facet of the issue of being a woman in a major leadership position.

Would Gov. Haley be willing to participate? If so, we would need to have the governor's note delivered by Monday, Nov. 7.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions at all. Thank you in advance for your consideration, and I hope to hear from you.

Sincerely,

Robin Rauzi
