The Governor's schedule will not permit for her to attend on Thursday. Would you like for me to regret?

Dear Governor Haley,

Hi, and hope you're well.

I'm writing to invite you to a brunch Glamour and Facebook are throwing in DC on Friday, April 29, before White House Correspondents weekend. It'll be a small, eclectic group of women, discussing (among other things) the topic of sexism and what it means today, in and out of the election cycle. Can you join us? It'll be intimate and lively, and I cannot imagine the table being complete without you. And it would be a privilege to meet you in person!

Details:
Friday, April 29th at 11am
Kinship
1015 7th St NW,
Washington, DC 20001

I've attached the invitation—fingers crossed.

Warmly,

Cindi Leive
