Talked to this person, and he does not have a press request. It is a policy request, and he's looking for a meeting to talk to the appropriate policy person on staff. Not sure who it is, but I have confirmed with him by phone that this is not a press request.

Mr. Peters, my name is John Thomas. I work as a journalist on African and Middle Eastern affairs; the links to my intellectual products are below. My master's degree is in social science from The Citadel, and I have done enough work generally in the field to have some ideas about how the "school shooting" problem might be attacked. I would like to meet with you in Columbia at your discretion, but the meeting would have to be in the afternoon due to morning commitments I have in North Charleston. I appreciate your time on the matter, and I think there is a possibility that I have a "breakthrough idea" that may begin to develop solutions to the problems at hand. -JT
