Hey,

Couple things...on the weekends, I'm never sure if I should call her directly, or if you're scheduling her. Anyway...

1. I sent her a draft signing statement for the transportation bill...maybe 12 hours ago. If she's not OK with it basically as-is, then I probably need 3 minutes to talk to her sometime tomorrow (meaning Sunday) so that we can close it out first thing Monday morning.
2. Speaking of Monday morning...I'm not sure where exactly we are at this point...I know she scrubbed her AM travel upstate and that there will be a transport-related event in town here. What I'd like to do, if it's possible, is get 15-20 minutes with her for what will really be our only in-person chance to run through budget issues on Monday. I don't wanna drag everyone in there this time, because time is very limited, and I want to move through the punchlist quickly. So is that possible, and if so, what time do you think?

Thanks as always...
