Subject: Fun for Social Security's 80th anniversary countdown

Dear Colleague:

Anticipation fills the air as Social Security gets closer to the agency's historic 80th anniversary and prepares to commemorate the August 14, 1935 signing of the Social Security Act. With the 80th anniversary exactly 80 days away, on May 26 Acting Commissioner Carolyn W. Colvin announced the launch of the agency's event-filled celebration, with many activities leading up to August 14.

Visit the Social Security Matters blog to read what Acting Commissioner Colvin has to say about Social Security's upcoming 80th anniversary.

We invite your members and audiences to submit their stories about how Social Security has benefited them or their families, and to participate in the fun events we have planned to mark this important milestone—like Social Security nights at ballparks around the country.

Please encourage them to visit our 80th anniversary website to submit their stories and find out about the activities we have on tap for this special commemoration. Here they will also find interesting and inspiring facts about the history of this vital social support—as well as personal accounts from our dedicated employees telling why they enjoy giving back through public service.

Thank you so much for your continued support, and we'll see you at the game!

Sincerely,

J. Jioni Palmer
Associate Commissioner for External Affairs
