Subject: Still time to avoid FL mistakes

Brad,

Since the cat is out of the bag,

Yes, we are now a certified Google news provider.

That means, whenever MyrtleBeachSC.com chooses, our articles will show up on the page one feed of Myrtle Beach search term on Google.

Just got off the phone with a well informed environmentalist. The Algae blooms now run all the way down the west side of FL around the East side past Miami to North of Stewart FL.

I am told they will make the SC/GA border.

WHY is this happening? Poor beach bacteria management.

The problem other media is having with DHEC and Thursday is that we had a heavy rain on Thursday and the samples were taken Tuesday. Russian Roulette for the uninformed.

I am not yours nor the city's enemy Brad. I am here as a voice speaking to your future self and our future city.

I would prefer to see a rich beachfront and a poorer Chamber.

Please consider surrendering those funds to every oceanfront system we can attain from Little River to Garden City.

The entire Legislative Delegation will support you on this one.

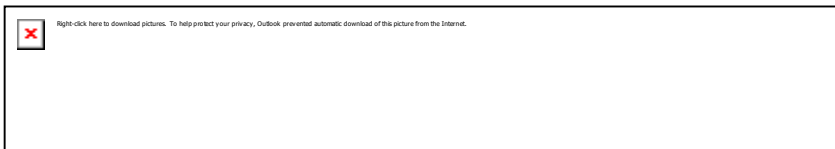

THIS ISSUE WILL NOT GO AWAY.

It will only get worse. Every knowledgeable environmentalist tells me OUTFALLS will only kill the ocean farther out. See the stories about Dead Coral and Outfalls in FL.

We need to build powerful new storm treatment centers and only you have the $$$ coming your way to make that happen.

Please pray about this and consider this. This Ocean is our most precious resource.

Sincerely,

David Hucks

Dear Brad,

Please take a long look at the child's face in this article: <http://www.myrtlebeachsc.com/child-deathly-ill-swimming-nmb/>

I WILL NOT go back through the misleading statements you spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on this past March.

This community will soon be coming together to protect our tourists.

As the article states:

It is clear that county officials, city-wide officials across the grand strand, and the Myrtle Beach Area Chamber of Commerce are playing Russian Roulette with the health of our locals and visiting guests.

BRAD - Please know, we are making the County, the Chamber PAID MEDIA, and all area city politicians aware of this news.

Do I need to tell you how far this message has traveled on social in just 20 minutes?

Time for us to make our beaches a priority over advertising.

Sincerely,
