

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Message threads

Record ID: 20210306unknownMessage-threads52748_t_10159174729248166

I'm not sure whom to contact, but I'm on night 3 of my stay here and some extremely unruly campers have moved in. I'm beyond frustrated and frankly want something done about this, as I cannot handle another night like this. It is nearly 1am and the campers beneath me (I'm at T6) are SO unruly. They have played exceptionally loud music since arriving, are being loud vocally, appear drunk, have a dog off leash that roams other peoples camp sites and barks incessantly (I have a dog here myself, so I don't have an issue with dogs- just off leash ones that bark loudly, probably due to their owners also being loud). I was under the impression quiet hours were at 10. I paid too much for the camping experience to deal with something like this. At other parks, especially one of this size, a ranger or grounds tenant would be on call to handle such issues. Instead I'm left sending a Facebook message and leaving phone recordings at nearly 1 in the morning to file a formal complaint. I'm very tired and frustrated but I don't understand why policies exist if they are not able to be enforced. I also saw people using sparklers in the tent area which seems exceptionally dangerous given the lack of rainfall and dry understory. Please consider having an after hours number available for campers who just want to enjoy their stay and don't want to start a confrontation with drunk park patrons after asking politely to please keep the noise down.

Participants: Kelsea Young, South Carolina State Parks
at 5:37:07 on 3/06/2021 UTC

Kelsea Young

at 5:37:07 on 3/06/2021 UTC

I'm not sure whom to contact, but I'm on night 3 of my stay here and some extremely unruly campers have moved in. I'm beyond frustrated and frankly want something done about this, as I cannot handle another night like this. It is nearly 1am and the campers beneath me (I'm at T6) are SO unruly. They have played exceptionally loud music since arriving, are being loud vocally, appear drunk, have a dog off leash that roams other peoples camp sites and barks incessantly (I have a dog here myself, so I don't have an issue with dogs- just off leash ones that bark loudly, probably due to their owners also being loud). I was under the impression quiet hours were at 10. I paid too much for the camping experience to deal with something like this. At other parks, especially one of this size, a ranger or grounds tenant would be on call to handle such issues. Instead I'm left sending a Facebook message and leaving phone recordings at nearly 1 in the morning to file a formal complaint. I'm very tired and frustrated but I don't understand why policies exist if they are not able to be enforced. I also saw people using sparklers in the tent area which seems exceptionally dangerous given the lack of rainfall and dry understory. Please consider having an after hours number available for campers who just want to enjoy their stay and don't want to start a confrontation with drunk park patrons after asking politely to please keep the noise down.

South Carolina State Parks

at 14:27:16 on 3/08/2021 UTC

Which park are you referring to? We have 47 SC State Parks.

Kelsea Young

at 14:28:31 on 3/08/2021 UTC

I apologize, this was a link from the Devil's fork state park and in my sleepy haze, did not realize it went to the general page and not a specific park page.

South Carolina State Parks

at 14:28:55 on 3/08/2021 UTC

No problem. Was the problem ever fixed?

Kelsea Young

at 14:30:01 on 3/08/2021 UTC

I spoke with the front office the next morning and they stated they received many noise complaints but the tenants were leaving that day. So, out of my four night stay, only one was bad. Just bad luck.

---

South Carolina State Parks

at 14:30:28 on 3/08/2021 UTC

OK -- I can forward this to the park manager and have him contact you, if you would like. Will just need your contact info.

---

Kelsea Young

at 14:31:53 on 3/08/2021 UTC

I would appreciate it. My biggest concern was not knowing how to act as most parks have a contact person after hours. We were just told the next day to call 911, and I would have never thought to do that due to it not being an actual emergency.

My contact info is kelseayoung16@gmail.com

---

Kelsea Young

at 14:32:39 on 3/08/2021 UTC

I was quite tired and grumpy when writing the previous email, due to feeling a bit helpless on how to address the situation

---