Subject: Clamagore submarine

I have been trying to contact several SC government officials and so far has been ignored. I hope you will be different. The submarine Clamagore, anchored at Patriots Point Museum in Mt. Pleasant, SC next to the USS Yorktown is in danger of being lost forever. The Board of Directors at Patriots Point decided to get rid of it, in spite of many people trying to save it and trying to negotiate with the Board. It wants to send it to Florida, where it would become an artificial reef for the benefit of divers. This should not be allowed, the Clamagore belongs in SC. Above water, not under, as a museum. This is a historic submarine that should be saved, not destroyed. I hope you can help us save it or perhaps tell us where we can get the help we need. Thanks and hope to hear from you soon.
