South Carolina State Parks

at 13:42:04 on 1/05/2021 UTC

It's 2021 and we have some NEW pet friendly lodging options! We've added cabins 14-19 at Oconee State Park and cabins 13-20 at Santee State Park, as well as the 400 section lodge rooms at Hickory Knob! Click here for the entire list of pet friendly lodging options at our parks:

Sharon L Smith Sure hope these people clean up after their pets, it would be nice if the parks would designate an area for the dogs to do their business so the rest of use don't have to walk thru their potty areas when we stay at the parks.

at 16:18:50 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Natalie Mulligan Any idea if dog parks will be included in any future upgrades? Some parks have tennis courts that have seen better days that could totally be repurposed!

at 16:25:05 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Peter Bendal Kear Sharon L Smith people are already supposed to do this when camping or simply day use. Problem is not everyone does it. Oh and I have never heard anything as ridiculous as a "designated area" for dogs said by someone who expects a dog not to stop when they need to versus where they are supposed to. We have walked a dog all around the "dog walk area" with no results only to have it pee or poo right at the vehicle as we were about to load up. Same for not even making it past the first few feet on the way to said area.

at 17:12:57 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Peter Bendal Kear Thank you for doing this. Last fall was likely our last tent camping trip. We have realized we need to transition into a camper but that is not in the finances right now (next year it should be). This means we can still enjoy the state parks and bring our adventure twins (not twins but about the same age rescues) with us for the weekend or even week.

Ann W-Fitz My concern is not all people are good pet owners. I'm talking wet dog smell and fleas! You will not know that the previous dog tenant had fleas or not until you start itching and taking them home.

How do you clean up after dogs to prepare for the next renter resident? Dog or non-dog owner.

at 18:39:09 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Gloria McDowell Ann W-Fitz I guess you can make sure not to rent a pet friendly cabin? Problem solved!

Barbara White Thanks. Great news.

Sharon L Smith Peter Bendal Kear all I can say is it is no fun to step in dog poo or pee.

at 23:27:39 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Peter Bendal Kear Sharon L Smith I agree however a dog does not do either on command. So what do you suggest? Of course the answer is that owners be responsible like many of us are. The issue is enough are not and it is a problem for everyone.

at 23:35:07 on 1/05/2021 UTC

Peter Bendal Kear Aside from what Gloria said I have a related question. How can you be sure the cabin is not infested with bedbugs from a previous tenant? It happens and while I have not seen any info in regards to State Park cabins my recent research into reviews of other places sure does point at the potential.

R Craig Cox Are you going to eventually open up all state park cabins for pets? Would love it if you would do this at MBSP (Myrtle Beach State Park). 🐾

Ann W-Fitz Gloria McDowell And that's what we did do but when there's nothing else available but a pet cabin....And besides won't another pet owner be concerned about fleas coming from another dog?
at 15:02:38 on 1/07/2021 UTC

Gloria McDowell Peter Bendal Kear you can have bedbugs anywhere! That's why I like to take a camper if I can!
at 15:11:34 on 1/07/2021 UTC

Peter Bendal Kear Ann W-Fitz then you do the same thing as when there are no cabins available or what a pet owner that wants to bring one has to do when there is not a pet friendly cabin available. Change your plans. I think you are just whining to whine.

Joey Barrett I'm extremely disappointed in your new no pets rule at the boat-in sites at Devil's Fork. These are primitive sites that offer no amenities yet you still charge a fortune for primitive camping. I paid it in the past because it was the only option.
