

Whereas Charles E. Brooks was named Interim Executive Director of the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education upon the voluntary retirement of Dr. Howard E. Boozer, and

Whereas he did serve loyally and well for ten months in that capacity, and

Whereas he did during this tenure oversee and coordinate the task forces studying the AVA's Higher Education in South Carolina, An Agenda for the Future, the staff's resulting recommendations, and the Commission's deliberations on the recommendations, and

Whereas the resulting document, The Cutting Edge was published and distributed to the Commission, the institutions, the legislature and the general public with his explanation and support, and

Whereas he did represent the Commission on many occasions both within and outside the state as its spokesperson, and

Whereas the position that he had previously filled as assistant director was left vacant resulting in a combination of two positions' duties,

Be it therefore resolved, that the Commission on Higher Education expresses its sincere appreciation to him for his dedicated service and thanks him publicly on this seventh day of May, 1987, for a job well done.
