South Carolina State Parks

at 13:01:29 on 9/13/2017 UTC · 🌐

Several of our parks were affected by Hurricane Irma and are currently closed. For more information and a complete list of closings, please visit our website at <http://bit.ly/2e6gXJY>. Parks not listed are open for business. Thank you for your patience and understanding as we assess damages from the storm.

Fran Clarke Poor Edisto and Hunting Island. They cannot catch a break.

Tina Horne Brakefield Thanks for the update! We are headed to Myrtle Beach State Park on Sunday!

at 13:18:04 on 9/13/2017 UTC

Ann Crews Steele We just went a month ago and visited Hunting Island and it was under water in places because of a week of rain. We were able to get around and what we saw was beautiful, especially the light house. The beaches still had a lot of downed trees from Matthew and now Irma. I'm so sad about this but that's nature for you. Good luck

Travel Advisory

9/13/2017

TRAVEL ADVISORY 9/13/17

The following state parks are closed until further notice, due to effects of Hurricane Irma:

- Caesars Head State Park
- Edisto Beach State Park
- Hunting Island State Park
- Jones Gap State Park
- Keowee-Toxaway State Park
- Oconee State Park
- Oconee Station State Historic Site
- Paris Mountain State Park

All other parks are currently open for business, but please check with those parks in advance to see if open for visitor use. More information will be posted on our website as conditions change, and parks. In the meantime, up-to-date information on Hurricane Irma can be found at www.SCEMD.org and Sout traffic information at www.511sc.org.

As openings and changes occur, information will be posted there. We appreciate your concern and than patience and understanding during this time.

Emily Baragar Julianna Nunnery hopefully they're open by Saturday, but keep an eye on it just in case!

at 13:45:46 on 9/13/2017 UTC

Tim Wilson We had reservations for the beach loop at Edisto arriving on Friday 29th. Should we assume the park will not be open? Hate to hear the park is damaged. We really enjoy it.

Linda Rickabaugh Thank you for letting us know. So sorry! We were looking forward to camping later this month. Edisto has really been hit hard the past few years. We do love it there.

at 19:32:08 on 9/13/2017 UTC

Vicki Dowd So sad to hear about damage to Hunting Island and Edisto! We had a reservation at Edisto for mid-October. Guess we'll have to find another park to visit.

at 21:15:20 on 9/13/2017 UTC

Lisa Pike And guess where I was headed this weekend to see hawk migration.....

at 21:43:57 on 9/13/2017 UTC

Georgia Wright Any major damage at Jones Gap. Is there anyway we can volunteer to help with clean up?

at 21:50:15 on 9/13/2017 UTC
