Sorry about the delay in getting back to you but I needed to find out more about who orders those for you guys now. OED (Marsha's group) now does it and I had to get with them to make sure they got ordered. As far as I know, they ordered two more last week and I asked them to let me know when they come in. I'll let you know when they do. Chris

Installed one in your printer and put the extra one, still-boxed, on your desk.
