Learn why federal and state agency IT leaders are giving greater consideration to using OpenStack open source technologies when migrating to the cloud. And be the first to get the findings of new, about-to-be-released, survey of government IT leaders on the issues and challenges of embracing this technology.

You'll also learn what agencies have learned making the move to OpenStack, and what steps your agency can take to assess whether OpenStack makes sense for your agency in migrating applications to the cloud.
