

James F. Quimby

106 Darlington Ave. ♦ Ramsey, NJ 07446 ♦ jfq01020@yahoo.com
Tel : (201) 327-1079 ♦ Cell : (201) 264-4400

February 5, 2015

Governor Nikki Haley
PO Box 11829
Columbia, SC 29211

re: Suggestion to change this Nation

Dear Governor Haley ,

I have been working on an idea to help save this country from the slow slide to socialism. I have come up with the way that might get the States to agree on holding a Con Con that would totally change the power structure in Washington, DC. I think there may be some parts of my ideas that you would be interested in.

The attached sheet with an editorial type cartoon and a Game Changing idea, was just passed out by me to many attendees at the 'NJRepublican2015.com' state convention in Atlantic City, NJ last Monday. There were very positive responses by all the people I talked to about it, including many members of the NJ legislature.

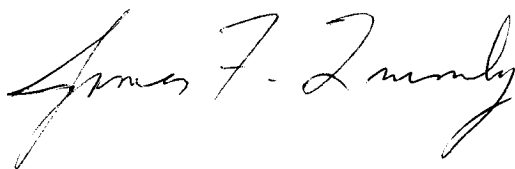

I think that an appeal to the 50 States to pass a call for a Con Con to pass a 'Direct Amendment Authorization' amendment, like I mention here, would convince many more States to call for a Con Con. This would be the Con Con to end all Con Cons, but it would totally change the power structure in this country and put the States in the position to be the real 'Balance of Power' in this nation. It would be just:

One Con Con,
One Time,
One Sentence,
One Amendment, and
One Big Change in the Washington, DC Power Structure!

The States would have a lot more influence in the national power structure with this simple one sentence Constitutional Amendment. It would open the door to allow the States to pass many more much needed amendments by bypassing both Congress and any more needed Con Cons with 'Direct Amendments'.

As mentioned in the attached sheet, I think there are some unique ways to use the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to get an amendment like this passed without even needing a Con Con. If you are interested in these ideas, please contact me.

Sincerely,

The one sentence amendment to change our nation:

"In Article V, a third way to amend the Constitution shall be for any State to propose any 'Direct Amendment' and submit it to the other States for ratification."

PRESIDENT OBAMA HAS TOTALLY IGNORED MOST OF THE U S CONSTITUTION, HE HAS TRAMPLED ALL OVER IT. HOWEVER, HIDDEN IN THAT CONSTITUTION, WHICH OBAMA HAS WIPED HIS FEET ON, IS AN IDEA THAT WILL ALLOW THAT CONSTITUTION TO COME BACK AGAIN, TO RISE UP, AND TO BITE HIM IN THE ASS!

A Game Changing New Idea

There are many problems about the Constitution in the current Washington DC power structure. The government has ignored the Constitution, assumed way too much power that the federal government was never given, and has practically eliminated the power of the States. But the attached Obama cartoon shows what that Constitution might still be able to do - come back and bite Obama in the ass.

Trying to attack all the problems in Washington, DC is impossible with the deck stacked against Conservative reform ideas. Fighting the flood of socialist efforts by the current rules is never going to work. The problem is that the States have no practical way to stop what has been happening. They have no real power in Congress and no way to stop what the President does. We are slowly losing our Liberty and our Freedom. We are being taxed and over-regulated to death - particularly businesses. Law suits, Nullification attempts, and such, are futile efforts to stop a socialist tsunami. The only way to save this country is to re-stack the deck - change the rules into our favor. Give the States some real power to stop what is happening to this country. And there is one way for the States to change the rules.

Article V, about amending the Constitution, only gives the two ways to start amendments - a 2/3 vote in Congress (which will never happen with Congress willingly giving up any of their power), or the Constitutional Convention (Con Con) which many people fear could change too much, and it is not a practical system to use to make needed changes on a regular basis.

My ideas concern ways to make it easier to start amendments to the Constitution and bypass both Congress and any Con Con. Consider an amendment which simply says:

“In Article V, a third way to amend the Constitution shall be for any State to propose any ‘Direct Amendment’ and submit it to the other States for ratification.”

Think about how much power this simple change would give the States ? Within a year there would probably be State proposed ‘Direct Amendments’ being ratified to:

Balance the Federal budget,

Make English the only official language,

Stop Congress from passing unfunded mandates upon the States

(it would be much easier for every State to balance their State budgets if Congress stops spending the State’s money, and by the way, this would kill Obamacare too),

Force voter photo ID,

Force better border control and handle immigration, and my favorite, a tough version of ‘The Repeal Amendment’, giving States the power to cancel laws and regulations.

Think how much this would change the Washington DC power structure. This simple amendment would lower the bar about introducing amendments, which I am sure today James Madison would agree is now set too high. However, it would still have the high bar of the needed 3/4 of the States for ratification to protect against stupid proposals. But it would give a huge amount of power back to the States to better balance the current lack of balance of powers in the federal government.

I have several ideas about how to get such an amendment passed - some of them involve powers I think exist under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments that can even avoid a Con Con, and others do involve a limited Con Con that I think the States would approve, if needed, to get such a game changing amendment ratified. Any such Con Con would be the Con Con to eliminate any need to ever have another one. Any issue could be decided one single matter at a time by State ‘Direct Amendments’.