That's how I initially intended to draft it, but that's not what they did in 2007 when they took the 2.5% bracket down to 0%...they did a new §12-6-515 for that. So I ran with that precedent and the path used last year in H. 4997.

Wouldn't this be a strike and amend of current law?

For your review – patterned after an excerpt from last year's H.4997, which was our individual income tax bill last year. Thanks.
