Dear Nikki,

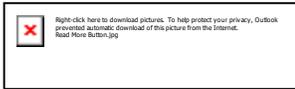

While the Hurricane Season is behind us, Winter's Wrath – and its wind, ice, and snow – lies just ahead. . .

That means, if you rely solely on a single threaded terrestrial network, your agency is at risk for getting caught without working phones, Internet access, or a way to serve the public's needs.

When that happens, you can rely on Hughes Emergency Response Solutions – powered by advanced broadband satellite technology – to get your network and critical applications back online!

Ready to protect your agency from the stormy days ahead? Call 1-844-817-5288 for a consult today, or click here to let us know how our experts can contact you!

Learn more about cutting-edge, cost-effective broadband solutions. . .
