Hi Danny & Catherine,

We wanted to see if you and/or your staff could attend tomorrow's event below. Or part of the event.

Thank you,

Danny & Catherine,

Hope you've been well.

We simply wanted to bring the below event to your attention in the event you are able to attend.

The event to which we are referring is being put on by a group with whom we work called Citizens for Responsible Energy Solutions (CRES). CRES is an organization that is squarely focused on engaging conservatives on the issue of clean energy expansion through the lens of open-competition and free markets. They are a national organization in scope.

The focus is solar tariffs and the future of SC's clean energy economy.

Thanks for considering.
