Subject: Wide Area Workflow is now iRAPT - Training Manual Available

Good day. As you may be aware, if you'd like to receive timely payment from the Department of Defense, it is imperative that you create an accurate electronic invoice. For many years now, Wide Area Workflow (WAWF) has been the Department of Defense's mandated invoicing platform.

You may have heard from your Defense representatives that there have been significant changes to the system to increase efficiency and enhance the user interface. WAWF has been renamed to iRAPT, or Invoicing, Receipt, Acceptance and Property Transfer. It has been combined in an eBusiness Suite, along with Electronic Document Access, MyInvoice, and a handful of other useful applications.

The Federal Government Receivables and Research Bureau (FGRRB) has authored an iRAPT/WAWF Detailed Training Manual which has received extremely positive feedback from the hundreds who've used it. Due to the significant changes we have re-written the manual and are offering it for sale.

Click the button below for full details and ordering information on the iRAPT Detailed Training Manual. Please note where we offer discounts for larger quantity purchases.
