Subject: Resume the death penalty

Dear Gov. Nickki Hadley, my name is Drew Nelson and I am a resident South Carolina. Currently, I am an undergraduate at Westfield State University studying criminal justice. As a resident of your state, I am very worried about the future of the death penalty. My friend was a murder victim and his killer had the pleasure of pleading guilty to manslaughter. I have heard from many state officials that the Department of South Carolina Corrections is having difficulty of obtaining pentobarbital. As a suggestion, I think you should request some vials from Texas which has an unlimited supply obtained from a compounding pharmacy.

Sincerely,
Drew Nelson
