The McCormick Hut is located at the eastern end of the peninsula, on the north side of Kay Waldrop Way, near the boat launch. It is almost identical to the Warrentown Hut in its configuration, with a foam coated barrel vault and end walls, centered doors flanked by vinyl windows. It also sits on a concrete block foundation, but there are no foundation vents. There is a concrete pad on the north side of the hut and a short sidewalk leads to the south side entrance. The interior is clad in wood paneling
