I believe this is the story he is referring to, admittedly watching the video, the man who bought the homeless man some food appears to be the most disruptive. It also appears that the staff called the police before the homeless man was brought into the restaurant. Please advise.

We were looking for a place to escape the cold and after seeing this video are NOT planning on entering your state!!!

I would be concerned just driving through with Vermont plates on my car after seeing how you treat a homeless person who was being bought a meal.
