Thanks Adam. I did have this. I am looking for more of a read on the case. Here is the issue – he loses his seat on the Council clearly, but is he going to issue a press statement where this is a “measly $100 fine, non-event and he’s shocked at losing his seat” or will he steer clear because this was a major bust. I wanted to know the tone of the case so I know what to expect in response. That’s all.

Make sense?

David Fernandez has the packet to take to the governor regarding James Washington's plea to gambling and the constitutional provision requiring him to be removed from office. Would the Attorney General like to meet with us or review the packet before we take it over there? Would he like to sign the cover letter?
