I just received an email receipt stating my reservation was cancelled for my November trip to Hunting Island. Was this a cancellation made by you due to the hurricane damage or was this something that I did on my end? The only reason I'm questioning is because there was no explanation in the Confirmation of Cancellation email.

Pepper, this is due to the hurricane damage. All reservations at Hunting Island State Park have been cancelled and refunded through December 31, 2016. We are sorry for the inconvenience.

Just received the email, thanks for the response. Praying for our State Parks and everyone working trying to get them back up and running.
