On background: the first family plans to attend Sunday worship at Mother Emanuel.

Quote from Rob Godfrey, Haley deputy chief of staff: "We understand everyone's desire to have policy discussions. Rest assured we will be having them. But right now, Governor Haley is focused on tomorrow's re-opening of Mother Emanuel, lifting up and strengthening the church family which lost nine of its members, and on healing our state and community as we prepare to honor nine of our own this week."

Just checking in to see whether Haley wanted to say anything else ahead of the rally tonight?

The governor issued the following statement:

QUOTE FROM GOVERNOR NIKKI HALEY: "There will be an appropriate time for policy discussions in the not too distant future, and I welcome them. Now is the time for healing our whole state, and most particularly the nine grieving families who will have burial services in the days ahead. That - and lifting those families up in prayer - is where our attention needs to be right now in South Carolina, and where mine will remain until all nine victims are laid to rest."
