

where great stories begin™

Reach Out and Read Carolinas cordially invites the Governor and her Staff, along with the Members of the House Education and Public Works Committee, Members of the Senate Education Committee, Superintendent of Education, Director of DHHS, and their Staff, to join us and our literacy partners for a fun evening. We understand that you are extremely busy this time of year, but hope you can join us for drinks, dinner, or both. Thank you for your continued support. We look forward to seeing you and discussing the exciting growth and partnerships that are making a lasting impact on the lives and literacy of children and families throughout South Carolina.
