

When there was no attending physician or midwife, then the father, husband, etc., upon seeing the signs of a child breathing even once, it must not be reported as stillborn. No report is desired of stillbirths before the fifth month of pregnancy.