Hi Chaney,

We're still figuring out what is going to look best in the layout, but we feel the attached might work well. Let me know if you would be open to our using them?

Thank you!
Megan

Thank you! I'm looping in our art editor, Megan, who found some great pickup shots of the governor that she thinks would look really nice in layout. Would you be open to us using those?

Thanks!

Thanks again, Chaney! The governor was so much fun to speak with.

Do you have a head shot you can send over this afternoon? I'm looping in my colleague Charlotte as well, as I'm hoping on a plane this evening.

Best,
Romy

Romy,

The governor's schedule has shifted a bit today, would it be possible push her call with you to 2pm?

Hi Chaney,

That's fantastic! Really thrilled to be featuring her—thank you so much for making this happen. Do you think there's any chance the governor has a brief opening this week? We'd need a quick 10 minutes.

All best,
Romy

Romy,

Please consider us confirmed to participate in the "Daring List." I'm going to meet with the governor's scheduler this morning and will give you a call this afternoon to discuss logistics.

Thanks,

Chaney

Romy,

We are very interested but need to speak with the governor's scheduler as we are pressed for time.

I'll give you a call first thing Monday morning to discuss.

Hi Chaney,

How are you? We're putting together our annual Daring issue at Harper's Bazaar, and as part of it we're calling out 15 women who we think are bold and inspirational and fearless in their fields, in a special package called the "Daring List." We're big admirers of Governor Haley and would love to include her.

No photo shoot required, just a few questions for her to answer via phone email on the topic of "daring." The package will include inspirational women including Julianne Moore, Naomi Campbell, and – we hope – the governor.

I'd love to hear your thoughts. We're trying to finalize the list by Monday, if possible.

Thanks so much for your help, and looking forward to speaking soon! Feel free to call me with any questions at 212.903.5028.

Best,
Romy
