Good morning! I really enjoyed Ranger Stacey's Bat Talk. :) We are doing a Spooky Campout with our grandsons and will be reading some books about night creatures (bats included) and I am wondering if there is a local place to purchase the Petterson d100 ultrasound detector. Great resource to use along with the books. Could you please advise on this? I found them online...in Sweden. :/ Thank you.

Here's an answer straight from Ranger Stacey! Unfortunately I am not aware of anywhere that sells them locally. Haha, I just looked at the box mine came in and it says "Made in Sweden." But you can order it online here; <https://www.batgoods.com/category/Bat-Detectors---Pettersson-59>. Mine is the D100 Ultrasound detector.
